Hi Darren,

I continued to investigate the 2014-16 die-off of Torrey Pines Trees over the past several months and still suspect aluminum and acid fog. As I come to an end, I want to send you this one-page summary of my tests, etc. thinking you could file it away in the "knowledge vault" and have a beginning point if the issue ever arises in the future.

I also put together a video explaining the entire issue and my efforts thinking a few of the people I sent copies to might be interested. Here is the video. And then I sent copies to people that responded to my questions or sent me info ... thanks! I hope there is some info in it that can be useful.
